

THE WORLD'S EVENTS TRAVEL SERVICE

iWeekender is the first all-in-one global event-centric booking platform for personalised travel tours on the digital travel market, enabling customers to purchase tickets to various sporting, entertainment, cultural and educational events online, with the added convenience of booking a suitable flight and hotel accommodation at affordable prices.

IWEEKENDER REINVENTING EVENT TRAVEL

The web-platform automatically collects popular events from around the globe and combines them with convenient flights and accommodation options for quick and easy online booking.

Challenges

Regardless of the fact that the tourism industry is growing, the following challenges have been noted:

- High cost of travel
- Complicated organisation process and lack of integration between booking systems.
- Online providers offer well-worn travel packages which are not of much interest to young people, who prefer travel for personal growth to traditional tourist packages.

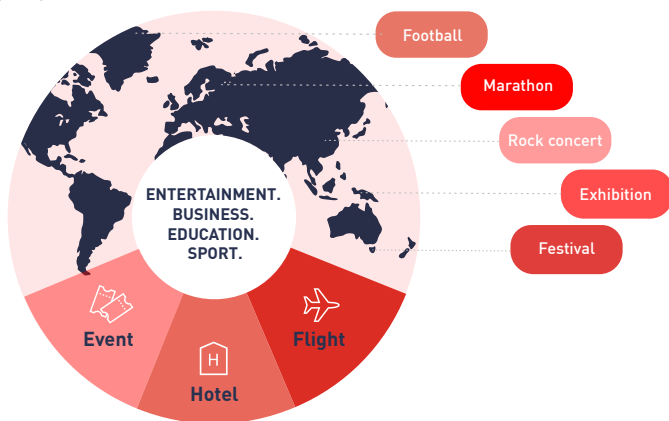

Solution

iWeekender solution is the world's first event-based travel ecosystem for personalised travel packages for the mass market, connecting people to a wide variety of events worldwide, assisting in booking tickets for events, suitable air tickets and hotel accommodation as well as other travel services online.

Up to 50% CHEAPER | 10X FASTER | PERSONALISED

How it works

The iWeekender ecosystem brings together an international audience of travel enthusiasts with online event ticket sales-systems from around the world and aggregators and sup-pliers of services in the tourism industry. The process of finding and booking a trip is made quick and simple through the use of dynamic packaging and machine-learning technologies. The target audience are millennials, active people.
